The Restitution Foundation, the Human Sciences Research Council and the Castle of Good Hope, along with our partners and patrons, would value your presence at the inaugural Conference on Restitution in South Africa.

Restitution is a difficult, restless and provocative word. It speaks about confronting injustice and actively deciding what needs to be done to address a past that continues to erode the present despite our many efforts. While it includes the problem of land and socio-economic redress, restitution ultimately aims at restoring dignity, a sense of belonging and all our humanity. This conference primarily asks what is restitution and how it can be achieved by individuals, communities and institutions. It outlines what is needed to ensure a future where there is something for everyone – to have, to do, and to give – so that the next 20 years of our democracy are better than the last, and so that our history of colonial and Apartheid oppression is squarely faced and overcome.

Who should attend?

Individuals, practitioners and academics, in all sectors – community development, sociology, business, education, psychology, economics – as well as across all our divides, whether religious, racial, political, geographical or generational.

Registration

Proposals for sessions are now closed, and accepted papers are shown on the draft conference programme below. The deadline for registration is Wednesday 26th October 2016, and can be done by email and sent to Dr. Deon Snyman at deon.snyman@telkomsa.net or by text to 072 080 4717.

PRACTICAL DETAILS

There is no charge for the conference although a donation of R100 to R200 per person would be appreciated, and can be made at the Conference. Entrance to the conference is via pre-registration only. Please bring your registration number with you to the conference to ensure entrance. Parking will be available on the Grand Parade free of charge. No accommodation is provided. The Castle is easily accessible by public transport – bus, train and taxi, although please make arrangements with taxis to ensure you can get home after 9.30pm on the Wednesday evening.

WHY A CONFERENCE ON RESTITUTION AND WHY NOW?

The past few years along with the events of the recent months has shown us that we are not the rainbow nation we once envisaged. Increasing protests, racism, inequality, poverty and political contention tell us that there is still much more to be done. “Why not talk about upliftment or development or charity or even reconciliation and social justice instead?” many ask. The answer is that we have done so yet we are not yet the country we long for. Instead, talking about restitution allows us to address comments in our society that include: “Let’s forget the past and move on”, “I worked for what I have”, “Don’t blame me for something I had no part in”, “Until the corruption stops, I’m not lifting a finger”, “We want our land back. Full stop”, “White people hide behind their wealth and privilege”, and “Nothing has changed. You can’t eat freedom”.

WHAT DOES THE CONFERENCE HOPE TO ACHIEVE?

To address these issues we will spend time developing and deepening conceptual understandings of restitution and finding ways to discuss, debate and scale up practical and realistic models that can be implemented throughout our country – by individuals, communities and institutions. In plenary sessions we will consider intergenerational, institutional and everyday responses to restitution, along with group discussion that will help us to chart the way forward. For this first conference we have not invited government to participate. We will do so in the future.

THE RESTITUTION FOUNDATION is a Cape Town based non-profit organisation that promotes socio-economic justice, healing and reconciliation through restitution. Its mission is to be a catalyst for restitution in South Africa. Its patrons are Archbishop Emeritus Desmond Tutu; Archbishop Thabo Makgoba; Prof Jonathan Jansen; Prof Mark Solms and Dr Mary Burton. Board members are Prof Sharlene Swartz (Chair); Mr Mike Winfield; Prof Geoff Everingham; Ms Zinzi Mgolodela; Ms Nolubabalo Ndevu; Dr Charles Robertson; Rev René August; Mr Msizi Cele; Rev Lynn Pedersen; Rev Lionel Louw (honorary) and Dr Deon Snyman (COO).

THE HUMAN SCIENCES RESEARCH COUNCIL is South Africa’s statutory research agency and is the largest research institute in the social sciences and humanities on the African continent. Our mandate is to inform the effective formulation and monitoring of government policy; to evaluate policy implementation; to stimulate public debate through the effective dissemination of research-based data and fact-based research results; to foster research collaboration; and to help build research capacity and infrastructure for the human sciences and national development.

THE CASTLE OF GOOD HOPE is a historically important venue; a place that holds stark reminders of exploitation, persecution, pain and dispossession, yet offers opportunity for critical active reflection. This year the Castle commemorates its 350th year of existence. As Calvyn Gilfellan, the Castle’s CEO says, “This is a commemoration not a celebration. One cannot in all decency celebrate the slavery and oppression synonymous with the Castle under colonial and Apartheid rule. However a conference such as this, aimed at inclusivity and understanding, provides a momentous opportunity to re-imagine the Castle as a catalyst for restitution”.
